

Physical Therapist Assistant

Department: Allied Health

Degree: Associate of Applied Science

Entry time: Fall

Length: 2 years (5 semesters, including 1 summer)

- The curriculum is an integrated two-year model, with students' clinical education woven throughout the program.
- Two short-term and two long-term clinicals allow students to gain hands-on experience in a variety of healthcare settings located across Iowa and in neighboring states.
- Both full-time and adjunct faculty have extensive experience as physical therapists and educators, thereby bringing their real-world knowledge to the classroom and lab.
- Advisory committee members are actively involved in the Physical Therapist Assistant program and represent a variety of employment settings. The committee is instrumental in providing feedback to the program on up-to-date clinical practice.
- The program has a spacious lab that is well equipped with state-of-the-art equipment used in current physical therapy practice.
- The program includes curriculum focused on background theory, assessment, and treatment techniques for a variety of patient populations.
- Kibbie Grant: Students in this program may be eligible to have half their tuition paid for by the Kibbie Grant. Go to www.kirkwood.edu/Kibbie for more details.

Program Description

Physical therapist assistants (PTAs) work closely with physical therapists (PTs) to provide services to people with physical disabilities. Patient treatments may include exercise, functional training, gait training, massage, electrical stimulation, hot/cold packs, traction, ultrasound, and other therapeutic interventions. The PT performs an initial patient examination and identifies patient problems and goals, then outlines a plan of care. The PTA assists the PT by carrying out all or part of the plan of care, monitoring the patient's progress and documenting the care.

The program includes curriculum focused on background theory, assessment, and treatment techniques for a variety of patient populations. Students will engage in collaborative didactic and clinical experiences that provide hands-on experience in a variety of health care settings. Clinic experiences are provided with clinical partners across Iowa and neighboring states.

The primary location for Physical Therapist Assistant students will be the Kirkwood Linn County Regional Center in Hiawatha.

This Allied Health program has a mandatory background check for clinical purposes.
